

Contributing to transportation research...

YOUR ROLE AS A TAC MEMBER

THE NEED

The Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) consists of representatives from Iowa DOT and other public agencies, research institutions, and private industry. TAC members provide perspective, subject matter expertise, data or equipment support, and other assistance as needed for the active research project.

The TAC also ensures the project stays on track to meet its identified goals.

Learn more about how the roles work together to succeed.

THE ROLE

- Participate in TAC meetings
- Provide guidance and input for the active research project
- Review project deliverables and provide feedback as needed

ABOUT IOWA DOT RESEARCH

As stewards of Iowa's transportation systems, we are committed to serving the people and businesses of our state with honesty, integrity, reliability, and transparency.

We are recognized around the world as a leader in transportation research, developing the cutting-edge materials, processes, and technologies needed to make lives better through transportation.

